

About The Conference

The Youth Model ASEAN Conference (YMAC) has brought together youths from across ASEAN and beyond to learn and understand deeply about issues that affect the various member states, since its first iteration in 2011.

This year, YMAC returns in a new format that sees new emphasis on youths applying the Cultural Intelligence Framework in their lives, as well as them working together through their diversity and differences to create action plans for a regional problem that is of concern to them.

Through both online workshop sessions, as well as face-to-face facilitation during the conference, youths will engage deeply to discuss and debate critical issues related to ASEAN members working towards action on the UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).
